ABOUT ME

A highly motivated and results-driven individual with a passion for continuously learning and growing. Known for thinking outside the box and bringing fresh perspectives to challenges, I excel at taking initiative and achieving goals. Recently made a career change from lobbying to Fullstack development, I am eager to apply my skills and work ethic. With a strong commitment to excellence, I am confident in my ability to make a valuable contribution to any team.

In addition to pursuing my passion for dogs as a certified trainer, I also dedicate my time to volunteer work with underprivileged individuals.

My background in strategy as a semi-professional chess player also serves as a valuable asset in problem solving and critical thinking.
